June 20-22, 2014 • Carlisle, PA

Hello and welcome to the 2014 GM Nationals! I am excited to be here hosting my second GM show at Carlisle Events, and I thank you for you for coming. We are celebrating 50 years of the iconic Pontiac GTO. I encourage you to visit Building Y, aka

“The Goat Pen,” and check out some of the rarest and most beautifully restored GTOs in existence. Also, don’t miss your chance to see the original Monkeemobile! Building G, outside of Gate 1, is hosting the “Class of ‘69” display which features some the best high-performance cars produced in 1969. Last, but not least, the Building T display features a great mix of GM products as well as the Family Cruiser display featuring some awesome station wagons.

One very different thing you will notice is the large semi-truck, with a distinct and familiar paint job, surrounded by black and gold Trans Ams in our north field. This year, Carlisle is the official launch point for the Bandit Run. Check out this huge group of Bandit fans and the many cars that accompany their tour.

Special guests abound this year at the GM Nationals. There is a panel of retired Pontiac team members, including Milt Schornack, Bill Collins, and Russ Gee (read more about them on page 6). I am also happy to welcome our resident noise-maker, Mr. Bruce Larson, back to the event; Tim Dye, of the Pontiac-Oakland Museum; and Paul Koerner, our technical guru. There are tons more activities for people to experience at the event this year so I hope you enjoy your weekend at the 2014 GM Nationals. Thanks again for coming out!

Milt Schornack

Milt Schornack can easily be credited as one of the key players in the development and continuation of the GTO line of cars. As the performance manager at the famous Royal Pontiac dealership in Royal Oaks, MI, Schornack turned plenty of wrenches on GTOs. He helped assemble many of the Royal Bobcat GTOs ordered there. As the GTO development leader, Schornack worked closely with Pontiac to tune engines and create performance packages for the GTO.

Schornack was commissioned to equip two street cars with the experimental Ram Air V engine. Only about 200 of the engines were built, as Pontiac killed the Ram Air V program before it came to fruition. The '69 GTO on display in the Pontiac Team Tent (near Building Y) is an original test mule that Schornack assembled to demonstrate the engine's performance. This is a rare opportunity to see such an historically significant car and meet the man who built it.

Bill Collins

Bill Collins is an automotive engineer with 35 years of experience and worked for GM, DeLorean and AMC during his career. While employed at Pontiac, Collins worked very closely with John DeLorean (Pontiac's chief engineer) and Russ Gee (engine specialist) to get the GTO project off the ground. The story of how the team used a loophole in a GM policy to bypass the engine size limitations in mid-sized cars is now the stuff of legend. Rather than make the car a stand-alone model, the team made the GTO a package option for the Tempest and shoved a 389 engine under the hood. What followed was the jump-start of a battle within the automotive industry known as the Muscle Car Era. Collins was a key member in the development not only of a performance vehicle, but also played an important role in generating a whole new type of enthusiast market.

Russ Gee

Russ Gee is an engine specialist and part of the trio of engineers who helped develop the GTO. Along with Bill Collins and the late John DeLorean, Gee was a key member in the team that created a whole new type of car. Gee explains the car's birth best: "It was a Spring morning and I was showing a 326-equipped LeMans to DeLorean and Collins," said Gee. "Collins remarked that the 326 under the hood looked remarkably similar to a 389. I told him there were some similarities in casting, and immediately DeLorean asked if the 389 would fit in the LeMans and I told him it would." Excited, DeLorean said, "get on that at once and when you are done, no one drives it unless they go through me!" That trio of engineers knew what they were doing was a violation of GM's engine size limitations on mid-sized cars. Regardless, the engineers moved forward and assembled a car that has become legendary.

The Goat Pen

We are showcasing the Pontiac GTO in honor of its 50th Anniversary. Visit Building Y, "The Goat Pen" to see several examples of the car many view as responsible for starting the Muscle Car Era. You'll see the classics, as well as the modern version, that were produced from 2004 to 2006.

SPECIAL GUEST: Ben Harrison

Ben Harrison, head of Pontiac's Product Planning Division in the 1960s, outlined plans to develop several new models in the Pontiac division, including the F-Body Firebird, G-Body Grand Prix and the X-Body Ventura. During seminars, Harrison will share his experiences working with John DeLorean and the GTO team, and talk about the development of several other Pontiac models within the division. This is a great chance to learn some interesting stories about the Pontiac Division. Harrison was awarded the "Outstanding Lifetime Achievement Award for Automotive Concept, Engineering and Development" by the Pontiac Oakland Club International. Check schedule for seminar times.

SPECIAL GUEST: Tim Dye

Tim Dye is a self-proclaimed Pontiac nut and a well-known automobilia expert. Tim's collection of Pontiac and Oakland cars, memorabilia, dealer artifacts and literature has become his biggest passion in life. In fact, Tim's love of the Pontiac brand became so great that he started a Pontiac museum in Pontiac, Illinois, known simply as the Pontiac Oakland Museum. Tim will be here all weekend to share his knowledge of the Pontiac brand as a whole. His mental database and collection spans from the early 1900s to Pontiac's last years of production in the late 2000s. Tim will also be bringing some very unique memorabilia to display, as well as a '64 GTO. Check the schedule for seminar times. Also, visit the Pontiac Oakland Museum tent and learn how you can support this great collection dedicated to the Poncho.

This year it will start at our event and, seven days later, end in South Carolina. The tour includes a re-creation of Snowman's rig, tons of black and gold Bandit Trans Ams, other eras of Trans Ams and GM vehicles and replicas of the police cars. The Run is also dedicated to spreading the word about the Hot Rodders Children's Charity. Carlisle is happy to team with the Bandit Run by providing complimentary spaces in order to launch the tour, meaning Carlisle will contribute over $4,000 in services to the group's charity efforts.

The Monkeemobile

The original Monkeemobile used in the legendary TV sitcom "The Monkees" is on display in Building Y, "The Goat Pen," joining the celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the GTO. It is one of the two original machines created by the late Dean Jeffries. The 1966 GTO-based Monkeemobile has gone down as one of the most iconic cars ever used in film. This car has had an interesting life. It was left in Australia after the Monkees wrapped up a concert tour. Later it ended up in Puerto Rico where it was owned by a drug lord and used as a shuttle for his luxury hotel. It was even painted pink. After the hotel and properties were seized by the government in the early '90s and all assets were auctioned off, including the Monkeemobile, it moved to the United States. There has been some restoration done in order to return the car to its original glory and it's even been featured in the Peterson Automotive Museum in California. We extend a sincere thanks to the generous owners for providing the vehicle, as well as Don Keefe for providing the photographs for our webpage.

The GM weekend will be themed everything '80s, and plans are to have cover bands, a special beauty contest and maybe even a classic car flick. ### Fabulous Fins

In addition to an IROC-Z display, the 2015 GM Nationals will be hosting a display of cars that have a bit of panache. Those vehicles produced from the mid '50s up to the early '60s that came equipped with tons of chrome and fins will be a featured display. Anyone with a finned cruiser, regardless of make and model, is encouraged to apply for the 2015 invitational. We are looking for convertibles, wagons and anything in between that came with fins.

CELEBRATING THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY:

Pontiac GTO – An American Muscle Icon

By Tyler Staley

The Pontiac GTO is often regarded as America's first mainstream muscle car.

While other cars existed before the GTO that could be considered muscle, it was Pontiac division's discovery of a GM loophole that jumpstarted an automotive revolution. In 1964, John DeLorean and his Pontiac team boldly tested GM's displacement limitations on midsize cars. At the time, the corporate edict was that no midsize model could have an engine larger than 330 C.I. DeLorean and his team decided to take the mid-sized Tempest and create a "GTO" package for it, which offered a 389 C.I. engine and other performance upgrades. Since the GTO was a package offer, and not a true mainstream production model, it did not violate corporate rules. This defiance of company policy helped lead to the most popular era in American car culture: the Muscle Car Era.

Motor Trend pretty much summed up the nature of the GTO in the magazine's first review of the new Tempest GTO in 1964: "Weighing in at over 3700 pounds and with two Motor Trend staff members and our equipment on board, our first acceleration run left our photographer standing in a huge cloud of blue rubber smoke, looking at a long, black strip on the pavement." The brute power, great sound, and fantastic styling of the '64 would become synonymous with Pontiac's new performance machine.

The runaway success of the GTO had caught the attention of the other American car producers, and the battle was on to produce immensely powerful cars in a contest of one-upmanship. Gearheads rejoiced at the slew of amazing cars now available at their local dealerships, and all of this was thanks to a division of GM that decided performance was more important than corporate constraints. The GTO was certainly not the first car to have a large engine in a mid-sized body, but it was the first to truly catch on and become a hit. It is highly likely that when you ask someone to name a Pontiac model, "GTO" will soon follow as a response.

This 1964 GTO was the car used in the legendary Car and Driver "GTO vs. GTO" article in 1964, in which a '64 Pontiac GTO was to face off against Ferrari's GTO. What makes this car unique is not only the fact that it was used in this test, but that it was a "cheater" car equipped with a 421 engine – not a normal engine option for the GTO. The 421 and 389 looked incredibly similar and were hard to distinguish from one another, something that Pontiac realized early on. In fact, this is the only GTO known to exist that is factory-equipped with a 421. Pontiac's team wanted to make sure the GTO gave a favorable impression in the acceleration comparison against the Ferrari so this specific car was built to make that test lean a bit more in their favor. Although this is not the first GTO ever produced, it is certainly a very low production number in the lineup of cars and also one with a very unique history.

This specific car's performance helped propel it to the legendary status the GTO holds today. The secret engine swap for the Car and Driver test was not confirmed until Pontiac advertising guru Jim Wangers revealed it in his book "Glory Days" in 1998. Hot Rod Magazine even went so far as to name this particular car as the number three most influential hot rod in history, with first and second place belonging to the "American Graffiti" '32 Ford and the General Lee Charger. "The Ringer GTO," as many have called it, is one of the most important cars produced by an American car company and will be on display in Building Y, "The Goat Pen."

Man & Machine – Rare Gems Showcased

By Mike Garland

By coming to a show at Carlisle, you can bet that you will see many classics and antique autos that you don't see driving around every day. One such car is owned by local enthusiast, Vernon Calaman. Vernon is from the Carlisle region, about 9 miles south to be exact, and is the owner of a rare and special car. Vernon's prized ride is a 1922 Sport Touring Oakland, which...get ready for this, he has owned since 1944. That's right, both Vernon and the car are vintage and true treasures! When Vernon got the car, it was 22 years old and he wasn't that far off that number himself. It needed some repair then and over the course of time, he's made it the beauty that it is today.

"This is the only one around here like it," said Vernon during a conversation in 2013. "I have rebuilt the car almost completely and I love showing it off."

When Vernon purchased the car, he quickly noticed many things that would have to be worked on, including the brakes (needed realigned), the engine block (it was cracked), the roof (didn't really have one), the body needed new paint. The list goes on!

Now, when Vernon showcases his car at any event, he props up a sign in front of the Oakland that says "For Sale $795." The joke, of course, is that this was the asking price when appraised as new.

"I've been offered that much money for the car recently and I would say it was for sale yesterday, but not today," continued Calaman.

He has never had the car appraised since, but feels like it might be worth somewhere around $18,000.

This car is very special to him, as well as his wife. They have brought it to Carlisle since 1993 and plan on being here this weekend too. Many long Sunday drives are taken in the Oakland and not only do they enjoy coming to Carlisle each June, you can find them out and about at other car-themed get togethers.

"We love the car very much. We give it tender love and care and hope people enjoy it as much as we do."

Look for Vernon, his wife and this car near the grandstand. If you can't find him there, swing by Guest Services and ask around. Someone will certainly help you find this gem of a car and gem of a family man onsite.

Speed and Performance Combine with UMI Performance

By Mike Garland

This weekend's Carlisle GM Nationals offers a lot for you to see and do. There is the Monkeemobile, the 50th Anniversary display of the Pontiac GTO, Cacklefest and our other great onsite displays and activities. Some are simply visual offerings while others are interactive. One of the most interactive things you can do this weekend comes via UMI Performance and their autocross ride-along program.

Autocross you might ask? Yep! The onsite course is on the north portion of our property and you can find it by trekking towards the Pennsylvania Turnpike. It's a short walk and believe us, you'll know it when you see it! Best of all, the walk will be well worth it.

So...why is that we want you to walk across the property and up a hill to experience autocross ride-alongs? The answer is simple. We PROMISE that you'll enjoy it. There is no question that when you strap in and allow the experts from UMI to take you for a spin, you can see what their products do for a car. They are using a car mocked up with their products and their experts will be able to talk shop with you and explain what and how you can use their items on your car!

For UMI, a company based in Philipsburg, Pennsylvania, this is their second go around specifically with autocross as part of the GM Nationals weekend, though as a vendor, they've been coming to the show since 2003.

"We've been coming to Carlisle since 2003 said Ryan Kirkwood, President and CEO of UMI. "We do a lot of shows throughout the year that are similar to Carlisle and also do some indoor trade shows," continued Kirkwood. We especially like coming to Carlisle (and other shows) so we can interact with our customers. The shows also allow customers to see our products in person and to see our craftsmanship. We have seen both our exposure and sales grow from attending a variety of events throughout the year."

The strong history of UMI has helped bring them to the event this weekend. Launching in 2003, the UMI facility features CNC machining, both milling and turning CNCs, band sawing, press brake operation, MIG and TIG welding, sand blasting, plasma cutting and powder coating.

During the '03 launch, leading the way were Ryan Kirkwood and his father Denny. Together this father and son team developed a large variety of products for many makes and models of GM vehicles as well as the Ford Mustang. Ryan saw a large demand for suspension and chassis products and felt the market was lacking of options and full of highly priced items. On May 31, 2003, UMI began its journey in the aftermarket suspension industry with a 1994 Ford Mustang GT Convertible. This car was used as a test bed for the beginning stages of UMI's Fox and SN95 platform products. The products began to move very quickly, becoming almost impossible to keep in stock. The faster they manufactured them the quicker they sold. In late 2003, UMI purchased a 2000 Pontiac Firebird Trans Am WS6 which was used as their F-Body platform design vehicle. Slowly, products began to arise on the market for the GM F-Body, and quickly UMI Performance became a well respected company becoming one of the largest suspension manufactures in today's market.

"We've been a mainstay on the Manufacturers Midway for years now," added Kirkwood. "Our marketing department, as well as Carlisle Events, is always looking for the next big thing. When we were talking with Carlisle staffers a year or two ago, the idea of us running our cars on the autocross course came up and of course we jumped at the chance. What better way to learn firsthand about our Race Proven Suspension Systems than to see them in action at the Carlisle GM Nationals? Customers can experience firsthand our quality and performance before they buy."

Today, UMI Performance operates out of a 35,000-square-foot facility staffed with 30 employees. Due to demand, this facility was acquired in 2011 and it's been full-steam ahead ever since. UMI Performance manufactures 99.9% of their products within their facility from start to finish. Products easily go from raw 24-foot bars of tubing to a finished product on your door step. It's this craftsmanship that makes UMI very proud of what they do and it's undoubtedly contributed to their success over the past nine years.

The popularity of UMI is also evident by the fact that they are here again this weekend, giving you the ride of a lifetime. Autocross is booming in popularity and, as such, so is the demand for the UMI product.

If you ride and want to have the products from UMI on your car, the process is simple. As Kirkwood explains, his product is well regarded within the automotive hobby.

"UMI is known for its expert tech support as well as service and tuning advice after the sale. Most of our products are bolt-in and go. Some require light fabrication but are within the means of most basic shops. We have trusted installers scattered over the country but to be honest, our main customers are the do-it-yourself car guys and girls like you'd find here at Carlisle!"

"It has been a pleasure hosting UMI on both our Midway and at the autocross track," noted Event Manager Tyler Staley. "This PA-based company takes pride in making affordable products for virtually any car owner, and it's been a great relationship so far. I look forward to working with UMI in the future to promote autocross with enthusiasts and newcomers alike."

"I'd would like to take the time to thank each and every customer for their support," quipped Kirkwood. "UMI's 30 hardworking employees are proud to offer you an American-made product, hand-crafted and fabricated with blood, sweat and pride. Thank you and enjoy yourself this weekend at Carlisle."

Official Event Guide Partner

It's no secret that American car values have been on the move over the past few years, both up and down. It pays for buyers, sellers and owners to know exactly what's going on in the marketplace at any given time, and that information is exactly what American Car Collector magazine does best. Each issue of ACC contains more than 100 market reports on individual cars that have appeared at auction, with published sold prices highlighted by on-site evaluations that cover condition, originality and options. Not only do we tell you what a car sold for, we help you understand why. Every issue also includes in-depth profiles on cars from GM, Ford and Mopar, joined by Hot Rod, Race Car, Corvette and Truck. Whether you have one car or 20, ACC has the information that'll keep you on top of what's happening in the American collector-car world. Subscribe at americancollector.com.

COLLECTOR CAR INSURANCE

Official Classic Car Insurance

Have you ever wondered what collector-car insurance is all about? It's simple: "passion." Heacock Classic Insurance knows that collector cars receive better care and are driven less than the family vehicle, therefore, classic car insurance rates are lower. Our goal is to offer a custom, low-cost program designed to fit your needs. Collector car insurance from Heacock Classic provides "Agreed Value" coverage, full coverage during restoration, coverage for modifications, and you choose your own repair shop if your car is damaged. You also get to choose a $0 dollar deductible and automatically get $50,000 in coverage for 30 days when you purchase a new classic car. After you request a quote, a status report is usually ready within 24 hours. Then we will contact you to review it and hopefully activate your new insurance policy. It's simple, easy and the best way to properly protect your investment. Call us today at 800-678-5173 or online at www.HeacockClassic.com

Official Auto Transport Company

Montway Auto Transport is an award winning, BBB accredited and 5 star consumer rated company servicing all 50 US States. By operating as both a carrier and a broker, Montway has access to a large fleet of open and enclosed trailers, allowing us to move vehicles of all kinds including cars, trucks, vans, SUVs, classic cars, exotic cars, luxury vehicles and much more. It is this dedication to service that has Montway MILES AHEAD of our competition.

Preferred Auto Parts Store

RockAuto ships thousands of auto parts from over 300 manufacturers to customers on every continent except Antarctica — including APO/FPO addresses. The RockAuto catalog is updated daily with mechanical parts such as brake pads and shock absorbers, body parts such as bumpers and mirrors, interior trim such as door handles and carpets, and major assemblies like steering gears, CV axles, engine long blocks, and complete transmissions. There are no mechanics on staff (RockAuto is a store, not a repair shop) but service manuals are available to help customers learn how to perform a repair. The RockAuto catalog is expanding constantly. Someday, it may be possible to build an entire car using parts from RockAuto!
